

Contents

Foreword by James E. Bradley	ix
Preface to the Updated Edition	xi
Acknowledgements	xxiii
 Introduction	 1
1. Hero and Villain	9
The Old Whigs and New Whigs
Hoadly the lightening rod
Vitriol and Venom
Recent revision
The American Hoadly
Hoadly and the Enlightenment
2. Early Life, 1676-1701	31
A Puritan Inheritance
Education
Locke and Rationalism
Marriage and London
3. Political Apprenticeship in a London Pulpit, 1701-1710	45
Toleration and Tranquillity
Occasional Conformity
The Reasonableness of Conformity
Hoadly's pastoral leadership
The Authority of Governments
Low Church Leader
4. Sacheverell: Adversity and Triumph, 1710-1717	89
The Original and Institution of Civil Government
Hoadly and Sacheverell
The Image of Hoadly
Hoadly and the 1710 Election
Latitudinarians at bay
Hoadly's advancement
The Church impugned by Hoadly
Hoadly mitred

The Preservative Against Non-Jurors
5. The Years of the Bangorian Controversy, 1717-21	137
The Setting
The Sermon
Early reactions and Snape
Sherlock and the Test
The Sermon and Dissenters
Hoadly and Law
The Censure of Convocation
Hoadly and Sincerity
Bangorian shockwaves
Hoadly and the Court
Reverberations
The Significance of the Sermon
6. Hereford and Salisbury, 1721-1734	189
Hoadly and Lady Sundon
Hereford
Britannicus
Salisbury
Hoadly and patronage
Winchester
7. Hoadly at Winchester, 1734-1761	223
The Lord's Supper
Hoadly's family
The Latitudinarian Microcosm
Hoadly the Bishop
The Last Controversy: Fournier
'True Greatness'
Living Pleasantly
Conclusion	273
Appendix: Hoadly in Poetry	279
Extracts from:
Savage's The Convocation: A Poem
Amhurst's The Convocation: A Poem
Amhurst's A Congratulatory Epistle from His Holiness the Pope to the Revd Dr
Snape
The Protestant Garland in Praise of the most Noble Bishop of Bangor
An Acrostick upon the Great Bishop of Bangor
Hoadly's prologue to All for Love
The Protestant Session
Strephon's Revenge: A Satire on the Oxford Toasts
Smedley's A Familiar Epistle to the Right Revd. Dr. Hoadley, Lord Bishop of
Bangor

Thomas's *To The most Ingenious Mrs. Sarah Hoadley, excellent in Painting
The State Weather Cocks*
Cooke's Epistle the sixth, to the right reverend Dr Benjamin Hoadly, on his being translated from the bishopric of Salisbury to Winchester
Akenside's Ode to the Bishop of Winchester
Keate's To the Memory of Dr John Hoadly, Chancellor of Winchester. Addressed to Richard Vernon Sadleir
Maginn's Miscellanies

References	293
Bibliography	348
Index	367