

REMEMBERING THE FUTURE
TOWARD AN ESCHATOLOGICAL ONTOLOGY

Metropolitan of Pergamon
JOHN D. ZIZIOULAS

Remembering the Future

Toward an Eschatological Ontology

Foreword by Pope Francis

Edited by
Bishop Maxim Vasiljević

2023

Published by
St. Sebastian Press

Edited by
Bishop Maxim (Vasiljević)

Copyeditor
Sally Anna Boyle

Prepress & printing
Birograf COMP, Belgrade, Serbia

Contemporary Christian Thought Series, number 81

Copyright St. Sebastian Press & John Zizioulas Foundation © 2023

Address all correspondence to:
Sebastian Press
1621 West Garvey Avenue ✧ Alhambra, California 91803
Email: westsrbdio@gmail.com ✧ Website: www.westsrbdio.org

Publishers Cataloging in Publication

Names: Zizioulas, Jean, 1931–2023, author. | Francis, Pope, 1936– writer of preface.
| Vasiljevic, Maksim, 1968– editor.

Title: Remembering the future : toward an eschatological ontology / Metropolitan of Pergamon John D. Zizioulas ; prefix by Pope Francis ; edited by Bishop Maxim Vasiljevic.

Description: [Alhambra, California] : St. Sebastian Orthodox Press, 2023. | Series:
Contemporary Christian thought series ; no. 81. | Includes bibliographical references and index.

Identifiers: ISBN: 978-1-936773-95-4 (paperback) | 978-1-936773-96-1 (hardback)

Subjects: LCSH: Eschatology--Orthodox Eastern Church. | Theology, Doctrinal--
Orthodox Eastern Church. | Ontology--Orthodox Eastern Church. | Fall of man--
Orthodox Eastern Church. | Judgment Day--Orthodox Eastern Church. | Future,
The--Orthodox Eastern Church. | Future life--Orthodox Eastern Church. | Orthodox Eastern Church--Doctrines.

Classification: LCC: BT823 .Z597 2023 | DDC: 236.088/2819--dc23

Contents

FOREWORD by Pope Francis	ix
PREFACE by Bishop Maxim Vasiljević	xi
INTRODUCTION	1
I. Between the “Already” and the “Not Yet”	1
II. The Eucharistic Remembrance of the Future	6
III. God’s Remembrance	9
IV. The Light of the Post-Easter Experience	10
V. The “Earnest” of the Future Kingdom	14
VI. The Reversal of the Direction of Time	16
VII. From the Omega to the Alpha	22
VIII. An Epiphanic Ontology	27
IX. Eschatological Hermeneutics	28
X. Death and Resurrection	35
XI. Toward an Eschatological Ethics	43
XII. Toi, tu ne mourras pas.	60
Chapter One
ESCHATOLOGY AND ONTOLOGY	63
Introduction	63
1. Ontology and Theology	63
2. Ontology and Eschatology	71
The Birth of Eschatological Ontology	86
1. From “de principiis” to “ex nihilo”: The Will as “Cause” of Being	86
2. From Teleology to Eschatology: The End as the Cause of Being	101
Appendix: The Eschatologization of History	109
Chapter Two
ESCHATOLOGY AND CREATION	113
Introduction: The Ontological Content of the Eschata	113
I. The mortality of Creation	116
II. The sustainment of Creation	121

III. The Ever-being of Creation	127
1. The Incarnation and the Eschata	127
2. The Ontological Significance of the Resurrection	130
3. The Holy Spirit and the Eschata	132
4. Creation as Eucharist	138
IV. Existential Consequences	141
1. Eschatology and Ecology	141
2. Eschatology and Natural Science	144
a) The idea of relationality	144
b) The Anthropic Cosmological Principle	146
3. Eschatology and Art	148
Conclusions	153
Excursus: Historization of the Eschaton:
The Significance of Iconic Ontology	159
1. Greek and Biblical View of Eikon :
A Comparative Examination	161
2. Eikon and Being	162

Chapter Three

ESCHATOLOGY AND THE FALL	171
I. Fall from What?	171
II. Fall to What?	182
III. The Problem of Evil	189
1. The Reply of Psychology	191
2. The Reply of Vindication	191
3. The Ontological Reply	192
IV. The Elimination of Evil	195
1. The Judgement of Evil	196
2. The Purification of History	198
Appendix I: Slaves of Reality	202
Appendix II: A Note on Perfection	211

Chapter Four

ESCHATOLOGY, HELL, AND FINAL JUDGMENT	217
Introduction	217
I. Judgment and Existence	218
II. Hell and Freedom	223
III. Being and the Demonic	226
IV. Hell as the Presence of the Other	230

V. The Eternity of Hell	235
VI. Eschatology and Ecclesia	244
1. The Ontology of the Person	247
2. The Ontology of Love	248
3. The Ontology of Mercy	249
Chapter Five
ESCHATOLOGY AND LITURGICAL TIME	253
Introduction	253
I. Time as an Existential Problem	254
II. Toward a Liturgical Conception of Time	261
III. The Liturgy as the “Un-Ending Age”	270
1. The Biblical Evidence	271
2. The Kingdom which is to come—the cause and archetype of the Eucharist	275
3. Liturgical Practice	277
a) The Gathering “in one place”	278
b) Passage through the ascetic and baptismal experience	279
c) The Eucharist as a movement and progression	280
d) The sacrifice of the Paschal Lamb	282
e) A Festival of the Resurrection	287
f) Remembrance (ἀνάμνησις) of the future	292
g) The structure of the Church’s “institution”	300
h) Communion of the Holy Spirit	305
IV. Liturgical Time and Ordinary Existence	307
Conclusion	313
Select Bibliography	319
Index of Scriptural References	327
Index of Names	329
Biographical Note	335